

JSOCMS SUMMER STRINGS PROGRAM

The JSOCMS Summer Strings Program provides the opportunity for string students of all levels of experience to receive focused instruction on their instruments from professional musicians and music educators. The program consists of four classes, which are designed to address the specific needs of students ranging from beginning to advanced levels.

String Team

The String Team is designed for beginning students who have no prior experience with a string instrument. Students will learn the fundamental techniques of playing a string instrument. The class meets twice a week for a period of six weeks.

Cadet Class

The Cadet class is designed for students who have studied a string instrument for less than one year.

This class focuses on the reinforcement and expansion of fundamental techniques. This class also includes a Music Theory component, which focuses on the establishment of fundamental musical knowledge and music reading skills.

Allegretto Class

The Allegretto class is designed for intermediate students who have studied their string instrument privately for more than one year. This class focuses on the reinforcement of fundamental techniques and an introduction to more advanced techniques. This class also includes a Music Theory component, focusing on the advancement of musical knowledge and music reading skills.

Vivace Class

The Vivace class is designed for advanced students. Students will receive instruction in the performance of appropriate literature for chamber ensemble (trios, quartets, etc.) and string ensemble. This class also includes a Music Theory component, focusing on advanced musical knowledge and music reading skills which are appropriate for this level of student.

For questions regarding which class will be most appropriate for your student, please contact the Jackson Symphony office.
